Active Writers

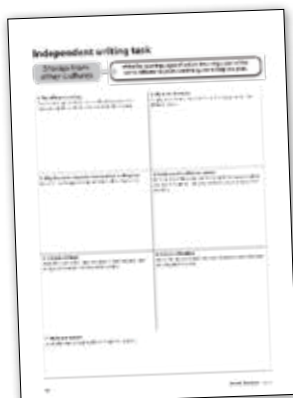

Active Writers is a series designed to help children become more competent and confident writers.

It provides teachers with a wide range of texts in different genres, fiction, non-fiction and poetry. Each book in the series includes 12 fully planned lessons, accompanied by exemplar texts, many of which are from significant authors.

Active Writers uses a structured approach to help learners during the writing process, prompting them to:

- Review what they know about a text genre
- Learn about the writing devices used
- Practise the language skills needed
- Apply their learning in a writing task.

Following each lesson, learners are invited to produce a self-assessment and reflect on their writing with their teacher.

Each book also features a CD containing differentiated writing frames, together with the texts and answers to the practice in writing skills sheets.

Thinking Skills

Thinking Skills – A Teacher's Guide

A best seller in great demand with teachers who will need to incorporate thinking skills in their daily lessons.

Thinking Skills – Geography and ESD

This excellent book provides lesson plans on how to use the thinking skills outlined in the National Curriculum to address the geography objectives and sustainable development concepts.

Thinking Skills – PSHE and Citizenship

Developed to support the PSHE & Citizenship Scheme of Work as well as to develop thinking skills, this innovative resource contains a variety of games and activities on many challenging topics, ranging from bullying and racism to road safety.

Thinking Skills – Science

For teachers who want to be able to incorporate thinking skills into their lessons but are unsure how to go about it. Each lesson contains a non-science introductory activity that explores the specific thinking skill that is to be developed in the science part of the lesson.

Thinking Skills – Special Needs: ADHD

Designed to stimulate and develop thinking skills in children who display characteristics associated with attention deficit hyperactivity disorder (ADHD) and/or communication difficulties.

Thinking Skills – ICT

The ability to think effectively and to use ICT competently are two crucial 21st century skills. This book encourages learners to develop both of these skills simultaneously, with emphasis on enhancing creativity.

Religious Education

An essential guide for the teacher who is a non-specialist in religious education or for those who are more experienced, but still find the subject hard to teach.

It gives basic, but comprehensive information of the major and less-known religions, while aiming to foster tolerance, acceptance and respect.

The book covers the six major religions, as mentioned in the Education Reform Act 1988:

- Buddhism
- Christianity
- Hinduism
- Islam
- Judaism
- Sikhism.

Emotional Literacy

A must-have for every teacher who wants to develop the emotional competence of the children in their class.

This resource contains 45 lessons – more than enough for one lesson per week. Each lesson contains detailed teachers' notes, warm-up games and activities, questions to ask and ideas about what to expect.

Cosmic Maths

Cosmic Maths is a series that has been created by teachers to promote and encourage core mathematical knowledge and skills.

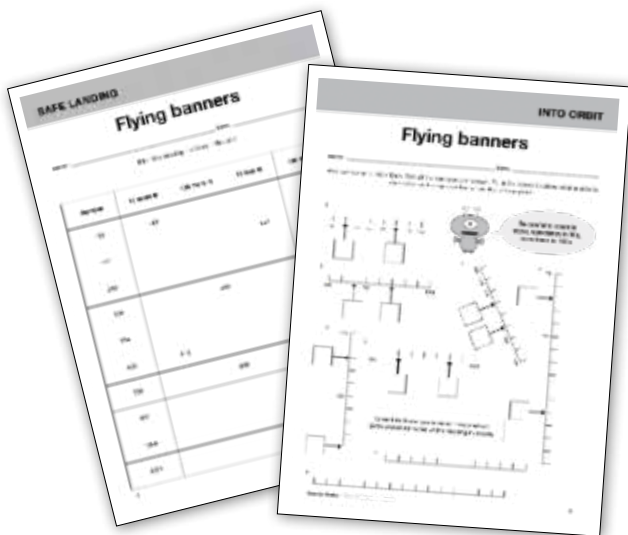

It includes four books, each with a CD that contains differentiated activities for support and challenge.

Each book covers the Key Objectives set out in the new National Curriculum for each Year group and focuses on providing valuable practice in Number, Fractions and Statistics. It also concentrates on the use and practical application of the four operations: adding, subtracting, multiplying and dividing.

Each lesson plan helps teachers to define key vocabulary and mathematical terms and introduces a guided activity that supports learners as they explore numbers through a range of exercises.

This is then followed up with an independent activity that allows learners to practice what they have learnt.

Answers to activities are given in each book.
