Introduction

About this series

Reading Explorers – A Guided Skills-Based Programme is a self-contained programme of work which has been developed to enhance the teaching and learning of guided reading.

It aims to provide teachers with a scheme of work that will enhance the development and continuity of guided reading throughout the school. More importantly, the programme actively promotes the teaching and learning of specific reading and study skills. The children thus acquire the ability to access, interpret and understand a piece of text, and are encouraged to become more independent thinkers and learners.

The main reason for the programme's success is that it is a skills-based programme which fulfils the needs of the developing learner. The pupils themselves are aware of the specific skills they are hoping to achieve each half term and are actively involved in developing these skills through the use of wipe board and kinaesthetic activities. They are also taught how to analyse the question being asked before they attempt to look for an answer. With this approach, teachers can support the children as they become independent learners in a structured and progressive manner.

The five thinking and reasoning skills contained in this programme are as follows:

Literal thinking
Deductive reasoning
Inferential skills
Evaluative assessment of texts
Study skills which promote wider independent study

There are five books in the series, one book per year group from Year 2 to Year 6, each with an accompanying CD-ROM.

Year 2 (Ages 6-7)
Year 3 (Ages 7-8)
Year 4 (Ages 8-9)
Year 5 (Ages 9-10)
Year 6 (Ages 10-11)

Each book and CD-ROM aims to:

- support teachers by providing a programme of work that covers enough lessons for a whole year
- reduce teachers' preparation time through the provision of differentiated activities and resources
- develop children's comprehension skills through purposeful and stimulating activities
- provide children with the opportunity to access a range of different texts and genres, as outlined in The National Literacy Strategy.

About this book

This book is for teachers of children in Year 4 and includes the following:

- A planning matrix of the skills to be taught throughout the series.
- A contents page that gives an overview of which skill a particular text is encouraging.
- Six detailed lesson plans with accompanying photocopiable texts for each half term (36 in total)
- A CD-ROM that is compatible with interactive wipe boards.

The CD-ROM

This provides differentiated text for each lesson plan. It also contains supporting resource materials which will prove useful when delivering each lesson.

The main text in each book is aimed at the average reading ability of the children of this age range. The texts provided on the CD-ROM are at a level below and a level above the texts in the book. This will allow all children within the classroom setting to access both the text and the specific reading or study skill being taught during each half term.

The planning matrix

A planning matrix is provided immediately after the contents page. Each ✓ symbol represents how often a particular skill should be taught during each academic year. Each ✓ symbol = 1 half term lasting approximately 6 weeks.

The contents page

Once a skill has been chosen to teach, the teacher can then choose an appropriate lesson within the specific reading skill. As the lessons within each skill are self-contained, they can be undertaken in any order.

Lesson plans

The book contains 36 lessons – enough for six per half term. The heading of each section indicates the specific skill to be taught and practised in each lesson. The lesson plans are divided into four sections:

■ Warm up questions

This part should be carried out first. The questions are usually literal; their purpose being to orientate the children with the text provided.

■ Main questions

This is the main body of the lesson and the types of questions posed here relate directly to the skill being practised.

The same questions can be used with all three texts for each lesson and, where appropriate, the answers are provided in brackets.

■ Essential Vocabulary

These questions or activities support the Main Questions section. They increase children's knowledge and understanding of words and help promote an understanding of why certain words were chosen by the author.

■ Evaluative questions

This section does more than simply help the teacher to round off the lesson. It allows children to speculate on the tone and purpose of the text, as well as to consider the text's audience. It also enables teachers to ask further questions on the social relevance a text may have in today's society.

How to prepare and carry out the lessons

You will need:

- A wipe board and pen
- Any prompt cards associated with your learning aim (see below)

The children will need:

- A wipe board and pen
- A photocopy of the reading text
- A highlighter pen

Introducing the session to the children

First, settle your reading group and make sure each child has a wipe board, a dry marker and a highlighter pen. It is important that the children know which reading or study skill they are focusing on throughout each half term. Specific learning objectives should be discussed with the children at the beginning of each half term and you can remind them of these at the beginning of each session. A model is provided below:

- Who can tell me what type of questions we are focusing on this half term?
- Deductive
- Good. (The teacher now sticks the deductive symbol* on the board) And what did we say the word deductive sounds like?
- Detective
- Well done. So as a detective, what do we have to look for?
- Evidence, clues, proof
- And where will we find this evidence?
- We can highlight words or sentences on our sheet.
- Well remembered. I think you've earned your detective badge now and we can begin. (The teacher now gives each child their own pre-prepared detective badge* to wear during the lesson).

It is important to write the children's answers up so they can be clearly seen throughout your lesson. This will act as a visual reminder to each child of what their learning intention is – not simply for this lesson but for the whole half term.

Below are examples of the symbols you may wish to use to represent each skill. Over time, the children will recognise and associate each symbol with its relevant skill, especially if the same symbols are used throughout the school.

Prior to reading the text

Provide the children with a copy of the text and ask them to scan the page to look for clues which tell them what type of text it is. Is it fiction or non-fiction? What genre of text is it? How can they tell this?

What do they think the text might contain? Ask them to look at the illustrations, title, headings, sub-headings and layout to give them clues. Can they predict what the text will be about? What do they already know about this particular genre?

Ask the children to quietly read through the text to familiarise themselves with it. They can circle any unfamiliar words they encounter. Any words circled can be discussed as a group and, later on, be put into the children's personal dictionaries. These can either be used to provide vocabulary extension work for particular groups or can provide extra words for their weekly spellings.

The warm up questions (3-5 minutes)

Next, ask the questions contained in the 'warm up' part of the lesson plan. This will give the children a purpose for their reading of the text and will enable them to search for specific information as they read. By doing this, the children will orientate themselves with the text provided and be able to use their past experiences to make predictions as to what else the text might consider.

Share the children's answers to the warm up questions. In which part of the text did they find their answers to the questions? Which parts of the text helped them find their answer more quickly? (Encourage the children to use correct terminology such as 'heading', 'first paragraph', 'caption', 'illustration' and 'column'.) Were the children's predictions about the text correct? Were they surprised by the text in any way?

The main questions (15-20 minutes)

During this part of the lesson you will be concentrating on the key skill or question type chosen for your half term focus. For this reason it is important that you give a weighty amount of time to looking at each question.

To determine that the children have understood the question and feel confident enough to start looking for the answer, the following approach can be taken:

A 5-staged helping hand approach

1. Ask the children to turn over their text so that they cannot see it.
2. Write out the question you want to ask on your wipe board and show the children. Ask them to read it and write the most important words or phrases onto their wipe board. When the group has finished, ask them to show each other their answers.

For example, you might write 'What did the diet of the Stegosaurus include?' The children would read this and write down the key words 'Stegosaurus' and 'diet'.
3. Discuss how relevant the chosen key words are when searching for the answer and where they might find the answer in the text itself. As the children begin to understand that there may be more than one key word in a question, discussion may also take place as to which key word should take precedence over another.

4. Ask the children to turn over their text and begin looking for the answer. Once they have found it they should highlight it on the text and write down the answer on their wipe board.
5. When everyone has finished, ask individuals to reveal their answer by showing their wipe board to the group. Answers can then be discussed accordingly and additional evidence highlighted on the text itself.

Evaluative questions (3-5 minutes)

These questions round the session off and enable the children to reflect on the tone, purpose and overall effectiveness of the text. Exploring these questions will also help the children realise that a text can provide ideas, raise issues and facilitate discussion that goes beyond the confines of the page.

Title and Genre of text:

Non-Fiction, Unit 1

Greetings from Paradise Island

Inferential

Warm up Questions:

- Where would you find this text, in a book or a brochure? (brochure)
- If you wanted one of these books where would you go? (travel agent)
- What is the name of the holiday island? (Paradise Island) Why do you think it is called this?
- What can you do on this holiday (a) during the day? (b) at night?

Main Questions:

1. What is a Co-Co Loco? a meal, a drink or a type of dance? (a drink)
2. Who do you think Captain Jack was? A pilot, a holiday maker, a pirate or a local? (a long lost pirate)
3. Why do you think the coral reef is described as an 'underwater garden'?
4. Why do you think the writer talks about 'fresh papaya' and not apples or strawberries?
5. The writer paints a picture of the island that 'awakens all your senses'. Which senses does the writer 'awaken'? How?
6. How is Paradise Island contrasted with life in the city (paragraph 1)?
7. Will Captain Jack's caves be easy to find? (difficult as 'hidden')
8. What might you find in there? (treasure)
9. Why do you think the writer calls good memories a 'treasure'?

Essential Vocabulary:

- Can you spot any examples of alliteration? ('breath-taking beauty', 'colourful corals', 'long lost', 'magical/majestic Misty Mountains', 'salty sea air', 'warm welcome')
- Why do you think the writer uses alliteration so much in this text?
- What do you think 'concrete blues' means? Show your teacher somebody who is 'feeling blue'.
- Draw a picture of Rattlesnake River.
- Did you draw it long or short, bendy or straight? Why?
- Is the jungle noisy or quiet? Draw something you think is making the 'chattering' noise?

Evaluative Questions:

- Write down the title and circle the word that is warm and friendly.
- Is the title formal or informal? Why do you think the tone is like this?
- Would you like to visit Paradise Island? What would you do?
- What do you think the 'problem' will be when your holiday is over?

Greetings from Paradise Island

For the holiday of a lifetime, why not set sail for Paradise Island and escape the grey skies and concrete blues of city life?

Relax while sipping a Co-Co Loco on golden sun-kissed sands. Then cool off by swimming with dolphins in crystal blue waters.

‘A tropical playground filled with excitement and adventure’

Discover the breath-taking beauty of our underwater gardens with their colourful corals and beautiful fish. Or explore the magical Misty Mountains and take a shower under Angel Falls?

And if that doesn't take your fancy, then why not be brave and canoe down Rattlesnake River and look for long lost treasure? Dare you enter the chattering jungle and search for the hidden caves of Captain Jack?

And remember, at night the island comes alive with an explosion of colour and sound! Have you ever danced Salsa in the salty sea air before? Or eaten fresh papaya under the gaze of the moon and the stars?

Paradise Island truly is a tropical playground filled with excitement and adventure. We offer you more than just a great holiday. We offer you a taste of luxury that will awaken all your senses.

Not only will you make friends but you'll also create memories that you can treasure forever. With its unforgettable charm and warm welcome, the only problem you will have will be when it is time for you to leave.
