1st October 2015

Mark Allen Group acquires The Airports Publishing Network Limited

Findlay Media Limited, part of the Mark Allen Group, can today confirm that it has completed its acquisition of The Airport Publishing Network (APN).

APN publishes two international business-to-business magazines – Ground Handling International and Ramp Equipment News – and organises a number of highly successful international conferences.

The APN team will continue to operate from its Paddock Wood office and it will continue to be managed by its founder, Tim Ornellas.

Peter Knutton, managing director of Findlay Media said: “It has been a straightforward and amicable acquisition process which we are pleased to have now completed. APN complements FML’s established manufacturing, engineering and management brands and greatly strengthens FML’s portfolio.

“The APN team brings an expertise in overseas publishing and international conferences to FML. We look forward to jointly developing existing and launching new events over the coming years.”
