An Interview with:

Sergio Ros Hernández
Lean & Mechanisation Director
G's

1 Tell us a little-known fact about yourself.

I like to look for the challenge and be challenged. I strongly think that the human being can always do more through respect and listening.

"I like to look for the challenge and be challenged."

2 What do you foresee as being the biggest game changers in your industry over the next 5-10 years?

- Lean & Automation
- Leadership skills

Companies need to understand that not everyone can do everything. When growing, companies will have to change some people as some of their loyal employees will get to their maximum which will not be what's required....

3 What advice would you give a younger you?

- Travel
- Go to work happy if not, make a change
- Learn languages
- Do not think you know everything because you don't
- Make friends, improve your networking
- Be proactive

4 What are your three biggest challenges on a daily basis?

- Deal with unexpected breakdowns
- Lack of clarity about vision and strategy

5 What has been the proudest moment of your career to date?

My team saying they would like to spend more time with me because they learn a lot from me and my people being promoted.
